

FROM THE PASTOR

I went all the way up to the top of the scaffolding around our steeple one last time last week: my third trip to the top since September. Two highlights of this came as I saw the bell being struck once again (after years) and the new clock faces keeping time (even saw the minute hand move!). This is what they look like:

FOOD DONATIONS

Thanks to all who have faithfully been bringing in a box or can of food each week as we collect for Hands on Hartford! Please try not to bring in items in glass jars as they can break in transport; plastic or boxes, please! And thanks so much to Bill Warner-Prouty who takes our donations each week.

JOIN OUR CHURCH FAMILY!

New Members will join on June 10! If you or someone you know would like information on joining Center Church, please contact Rev. Shelly!

So many old church buildings have clocks with bells that ring to remind people of the time. Why? Was it just a public service in the days before wristwatches and cell phones? Or something more?

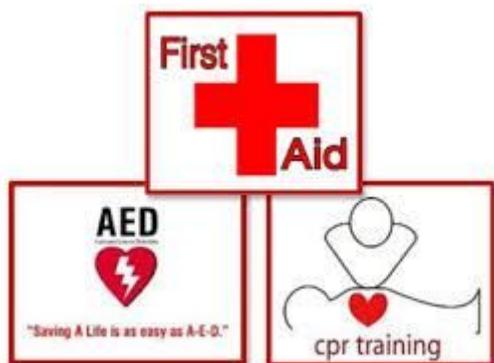

Often in the Bible, big events are heralded by time markers. The prophet Isaiah's call story begins "In the year that King Uzziah died." Jesus' birth story begins by telling us the census that sent his parents to Bethlehem happened when Augustus was emperor and Quirinius governor of Syria. This is not incidental to the story. These time markers tell us that this is not a timeless myth, but a story of a God who interacts with people in specific ways in specific times, as part of our histories. God enters into our stories in the here and now just as God did in the there and then. The clock and bell in our tower are to remind those who see and hear them that God still dwells among us in our time, inviting them to look up, to listen, to open themselves to see and hear what God is doing. Next time you hear the bell, take a moment to ask God, "What's up now, for me, for us, for the world?"

 Transitional Minister

WHY SHOULD YOU COME TO THE JUNE 9 RETREAT?

"The shift from church leadership as a business enterprise to a spiritual enterprise is bathed in prayer, and deep, deep listening as a group of friends seek to discover what is possible with God."

~ Estock and Nixon

THIS is what we will be about on Saturday, June 9, and we need ALL OF YOU, members and friends, to join our retreat from 9:00am-1:30pm at Hands on Hartford. RSVP ASAP to the Church Office by email or phone. Bring children and let us know if you will so that we may plan accordingly.

FROM THE WARBURTON DIRECTOR OF OUTREACH MINISTRIES

Building on our heritage. That phrase is on a banner that hangs in the Meeting House. When it comes to this church, there are many ways in which our heritage is hard at work. It looks like a group from Covenant Village (pictured to the left), who hosted a current events discussion on homelessness. After that event, they presented "welcome home kits" containing household items to be given to people moving into new apartments. Those gifts were presented to me, the Warburton Director of Outreach Ministries, whose position is mostly funded by the trust of the person the position is named after, Mary A. Warburton, who built the Warburton Chapel in honor of her husband and then left a legacy in 1869. Many of the welcome home kits will be given to people who receive security deposits from the church. A significant amount of those security deposits are funded by money donated by Faith Collins, who gave money in 1954 "for needy gentlewomen of Hartford", and Mr. J.C. Hills, who became a member in 1869 and served as the librarian of the Warburton chapel his entire adult life. We are truly part of a "Cloud of Witnesses". How awe inspiring it is to plant seeds for future generations, while we water seeds already planted, and enjoy the shade of trees already grown.

~ Logan Singerman
